

Faculty of Commerce & Business Administration

Human Resources Planning

Information :

Course Code : HRM 303

Level : Undergraduate

Course Hours : 3.00- Hours

Department : Human Resources Management

Description :

This course introduces students to fundamental concepts of human resource planning, and provides them with an understanding of the wide range of staffing activities within both commercial and industrial organizations. This course develops students' abilities to analyze and integrate the complex social, cultural and organizational factors influencing human resource planning and staffing. The course will examine the process of human resource planning, linking human resource planning with strategic planning, job analysis and job design, recruitment and selection of employees. Ethical issues such as discrimination and equal opportunities are discussed under the topics of job advertisement, selection and staff movement.