

Faculty of Computers and Information Technology

Mobile Computing Applications

Information :

Course Code : ITC 461

Level : Undergraduate

Course Hours : 3.00- Hours

Department : Department of Information Systems

Description :

This course involves the design and development of mobile application for cell phones, PDAs, and related remote computing devices. After an introduction to mobile computing infrastructures and mobile application software Development tools and Frameworks, the students will be introduced to web-based mobile application architecture u