

Faculty of Economics & Political Science

Political Systems in Asia

Information :

Course Code : PSC 407

Level : Undergraduate

Course Hours : 3.00- Hours

Department : Department of Political Science

Instructor Information :

Title	Name	Office hours
Lecturer	Salma Shamel Nasser

Description :

The course deals with the relative position of Asia in world politics after the end of cold war through the following topics, explaining the Asian rise in world politics, the effect of international changes on regional conflicts and security in Asia, changes in the roles played by the Asian powers, and major global powers in Asia, studying trends of regional integration in Asia, trans-regionalism, establishing frameworks for Asian security and developing strategic understanding among some Asian states and the major states in the continent, regional and global competition in Central Asia, and the future of this region.

Books :

Book	Author	Publisher
No Book	no	no