Description :

Graduation Project 2 will be the continuation of Graduation Project 1. Students will work on the empirical and research applications. Students will be exposed to learning the various types of data collection, design, analysis, and presentation. All projects will be compiled in formal documents which will be assessed by the supervisor and the examining committee. At the end of the project, students will prepare a report on all stages of the process as well as an oral presentation for their project. This course will help students to demonstrate ability to plan, organize and manage a project; demonstrate ability to develop a formal project life cycle; and combine a wide variety of technical skills, materials and processes in the accounting field.
